Under Jewish ceremonial law, if a man touched a dead body, he was unclean. For instance, the sacrifices of the Day of Atonement purified the tabernacle and the altar and the Holy Place. Such was the ritual of the Day of Atonement, the day designed to cleanse all things and all people from sin. Hebrews8HebrewsAgain,thatisawrongfocus. God designed that old system to point ahead to the superior, final sacrifice of our high priest, Christ, who offered His own blood to obtain for us eternal redemption and a clean conscience. The author moves on to describe the familiar tabernacle ritual: B. ResourceToolbox. So is it with the blessed gospel: if Jesus did not die, then the gospel is null and void. Not a member?
