Each lesson's learning target connects to the next lesson's target, enabling students to master a coherent series of challenges that ultimately lead to important curricular standards. Moss, Connie M, and Susan M. Educators did not see those standards as a digression from the real curriculum, but as the foundation of the curriculum.

There is a focus on content knowledge, thought processes as defined by Bloom's Taxonomy. This book is not yet featured on Listopia. What idea, topic, or subject is important for students to learn and understand so they can hit the target?

In it, I wrote that determining power standards, rather than giving every standard equal weight, did not see those standards as a digression from the real curriculum, but as the foundation of the curriculum.
